

Shape up for an Oracle six-pack this summer

Summer's here; we welcome the long weekends and holidays, switching off and tuning out, and feeling refreshed and renewed. Well, doesn't Oracle deserve a little summer lovin' too? So, we've highlighted our top tips to take advantage of summer and take care of all those jobs you've never quite had the time for this year. Shape up for an Oracle "six-pack" and be the envy of your competitors...

Tips

1 Protect yourself

Check the passwords on standard database and application accounts have been changed recently, are changed frequently by users and everyone is forced to use 'hard' passwords.

3 Hasta la vista, baby

Review and/or setup Oracle E-Business Workflow purging to avoid excessive growth of Workflow tables.

5 We're gonna need a bigger boat

Review your licensing to make sure you have enough for your users and hardware.

2 Housekeeping

Check your day-to-day scripts cover everything and function as required. Get your documentation in order. Do the same for your Oracle E-Business cloning process.

4 Blow away the cobwebs

Tidy up your database space; rebuild all those temporary tables to reclaim space.

6 Cover up and factor 50 for Oracle

Review the recommended patch levels, beyond critical patches for all your Oracle software and Oracle E-Business. Don't forget the middle tier Oracle homes.
